Croatia

A Presentation
by
Meghan Starcevich

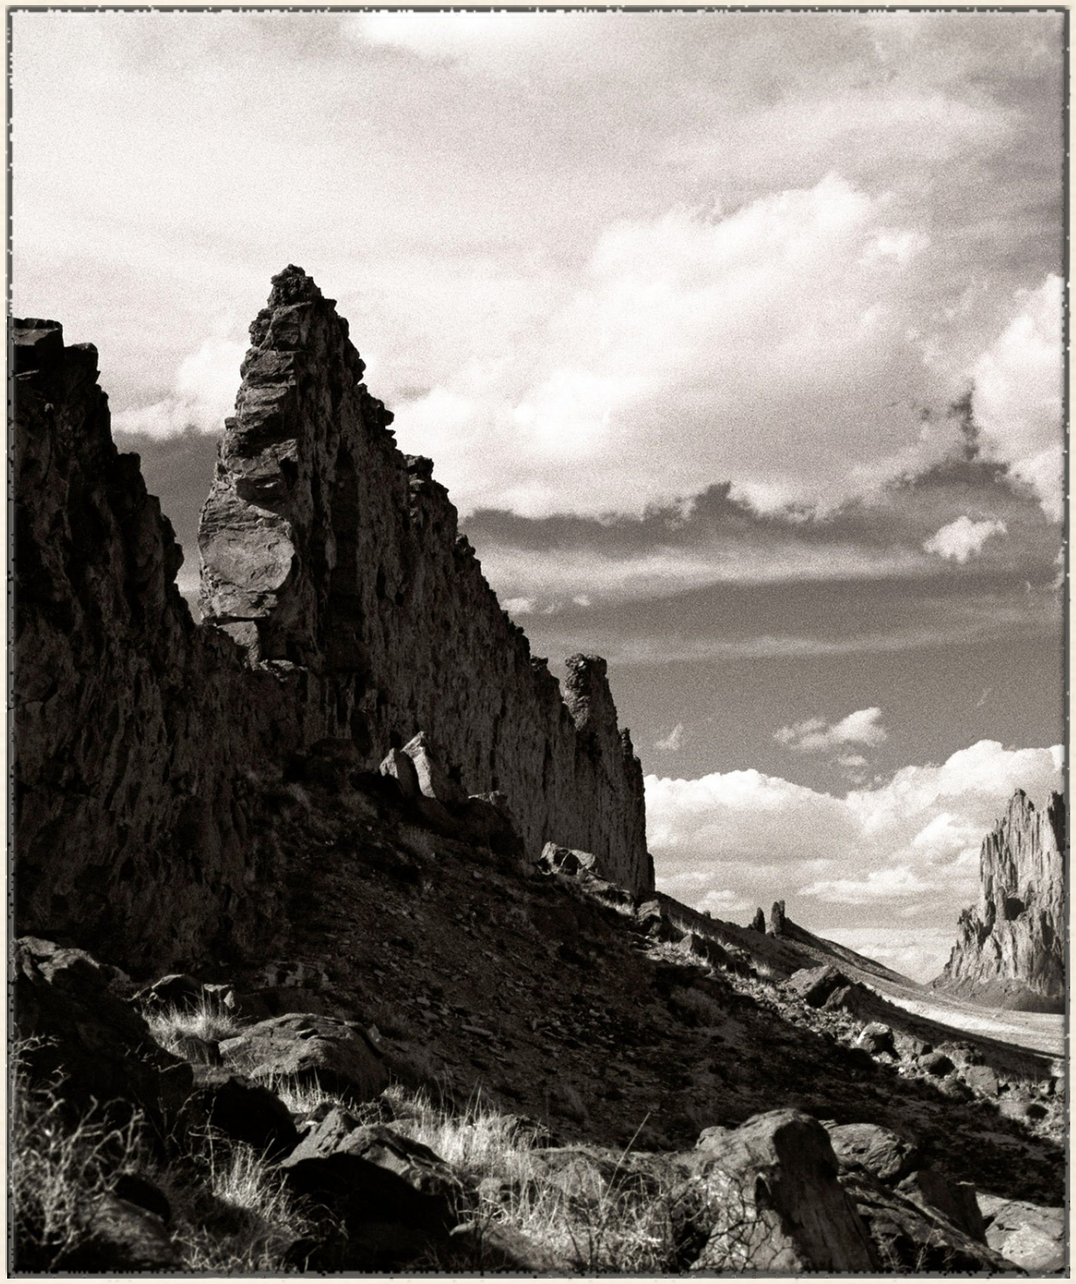
Where is Croatia?

- Croatia is located in southeastern Europe. It is bordered by Serbia, Slovenia, Hungary, Montenegro, and Bosnia and Herzegovina. It borders the Adriatic Sea, which separates Croatia from Italy.

- Croatia is approximately 56,594 square kilometers.

- The land consists of flat plains along the Hungarian coast, low mountains and highlands along the Adriatic coastline, and islands.

- Its highest point is Dinara, a mountain located near the border of Bosnia and Herzegovina. It is 1,831 meters high.



What is the Population?

- The current population stands at an estimated 4 million people (as of July 2014). There is no problem with this.

- A person from Croatia is called a Croatian or a Croat.

- Ethnic groups in Croatia include Croatians (the majority), Serbians, Bosnians, Slovenians, Czechs, and Italians.

Who is the Head?

- The current president of Croatia is Kolinda Grabar-Kiratovic. She is Croatia’s first female president and has been in power since February of this year.
  - She was born in Rijeka, on April 29, 1968. She was previously a foreign minister, an ambassador to the United States, as well as a NATO secretary general.
- The current head of the Croatian government is Prime Minister Zoran Milanović.
  - He was born in Zagreb, on October 30, 1966. He became the current prime minister when his four-party bloc defeated the Croatian Democratic Union during the December 2011 elections.

Sources

Croatia Profile - Leaders

http://www.bbc.com/news/world-europe-17213037